For non-members of the Society, please also confirm where you work at present, your seniority, and contact details including phone number by emailing Mara Banuta, mara@scts.org.

Please note that as SCTS are covering the cost for you to attend the course including the accommodation and all meals, any other subsistence charges at the conference centre for the duration of the course must be paid for yourselves.

The wet lab is intended not to be too structured to leave room for self-initiative to the attendees so to concentrate on what count most for each of them.
